

February 21, 2012
Mazda Motor Corporation
Corporate Communications Division

In Response to Media Reports on February 21, 2012

Today, news reports claimed that Mazda Motor Corporation plans to issue new shares. These reports were not based on information officially disclosed by Mazda. At the present time, no specific actions have been decided upon and there is nothing to announce.

Mazda will announce any important developments at the appropriate time going forward.