Impact of Heavy Rains in July 2018 on Production, etc. (Loss Occurrence)

With regard to the impact of heavy rains in July 2018, now that Mazda Motor Corporation has returned to normal plant operations since September 10, we hereby announce the latest situation which we have confirmed to date as below.

1. Impact on our production, etc.

We suspended plant operations temporarily due to the impact of the disaster. And even after the resumption of operations, we had reduced production volume, while placing the highest priority on the recovery of the region and taking into consideration of the impact on transportation networks, etc. Consequently, compared with the initial plan, our production volume of vehicles and knockdown parts for overseas production dropped by 44 thousands units and 23 thousands units, respectively.

With regard to the impact on our operating results (operating income) due to the decrease in the volume of production, it is expected that the loss will amount to about 28 billion yen.

We will continue to carefully examine and review our production and wholesales plan for the fiscal year under review.

2. Full-year consolidated financial forecast for the Fiscal Year ending March 31, 2019

With regard to the consolidated financial forecast for the fiscal year under review, we plan to promptly announce it at an appropriate timing based on changes in the business environment and the status of sales, etc. in addition to the impact on production and wholesales due to the heavy rains mentioned above.
